BEING LOVED BY THE SPACE YOU'RE IN

Grand Africa Story

"As I walked through the doors of the Grand Cafe and Rooms in Plettenberg Bay, I felt that I was held within the space and felt transported to another world. Not fantasy but real and decadently free to live one's own reality".

These are the words of Sue Main, the proprietor of Grand Africa, when she first laid eyes on and fell in love with The Grand Cafe & Rooms in Plettenberg Bay. When the property went onto the market Sue did not think twice, she took ownership of the former B&B and recreated the Grand Café & Rooms boutique hotel & bistro - style cafe.

"...you enter a world of discreet escapism where a sense of decadence and worldly charm reflects upon its setting over one of Africa most beautiful bays — Plettenberg Bay, " (Conde Nast Traveller, Top 20 Culinary and Best Café Style Dining award-winning hotels)

Within a year Sue had taken the brand to a whole new level with the opening of her first addition, Grand Cafe Cape Town, overlooking the palm lined beachfront of Camps Bay, the 'Miami Mile' of Cape Town, for a grand new ocean-side dining experience.

Offering a glowing space with a decadent ambience and romance, the shameless showgirl highlights her crimson red roses, unique antique furnishings and copper topped bars, where aged candlesticks elegantly sit next to polished glassware. Plain white crockery decorated with angel wings add to the honesty of the cuisine - combining old and new classic signature dishes.

the next Grand endeavour was to transform a formerly neglected warehouse into a 'feet in the sand' dining experience complete with its own beach. Based on the concept "where boho-chic meets retro-romance fit for the worldly traveller" - the Grand revels in the triumph of authenticity, reaching its zenith in the introduction of Grand Cafe & Beach in Granger Bay to Cape Town.

"It is an eclectic collection of boho—chic nuances that encourage a free—spirited attitude to Cafe life, St Tropez European flair with eccentricity and honesty."

At the Grand Cafe & Beach the exteriors of the old warehouse have been retained while a sun-deck and beach have been extended to the water's edge while internally the destination restaurant includes an exhibition kitchen, dining area and lifestyle shopping experience, Gallery Boadicea.

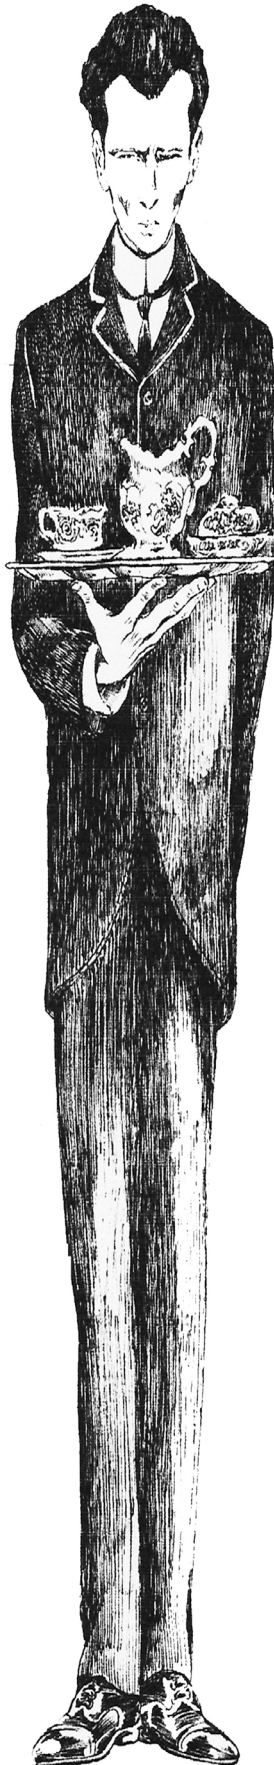

"I believe in conserving the natural form of old buildings as they were meant to be without destroying the authentic architecture."

What is your vision and where do you see Grand Africa going?

"My vision is to interlace my passion for property, beauty and humankind creating a LOVEMARK that enables guests to be held and loved by the space that they are in"

"As the brand grows, one thing will remain constant - when people enter Grand Africa, they will feel that they can let their hair down as long as it is done with flair "

CHAPTER I

When I returned from the United Kingdom in 2005 after spending 10 years abroad, I set up a small property portfolio, the GRAND Café & Rooms in Plettenberg Bay along the Garden Route, South Africa.

And so my journey began

I bought this beautiful property from a dear friend, Gail Behr, the founder of GRAND Café & Rooms and reopened the doors with a capacity of seven rooms, a Cafe and a GRAND Petite Salon. Now known as the GRAND Dame of GRAND AFRICA.

In March of 2008, I bought the property that became home to GRAND Cafe Camps Bay, with it premiering in October 2008. The GRAND Cafe was received and embraced by Cape Town with open arms and was immediately loved and acknowledged as the Shameless Showgirl on the 'Miami Mile' of South Africa.

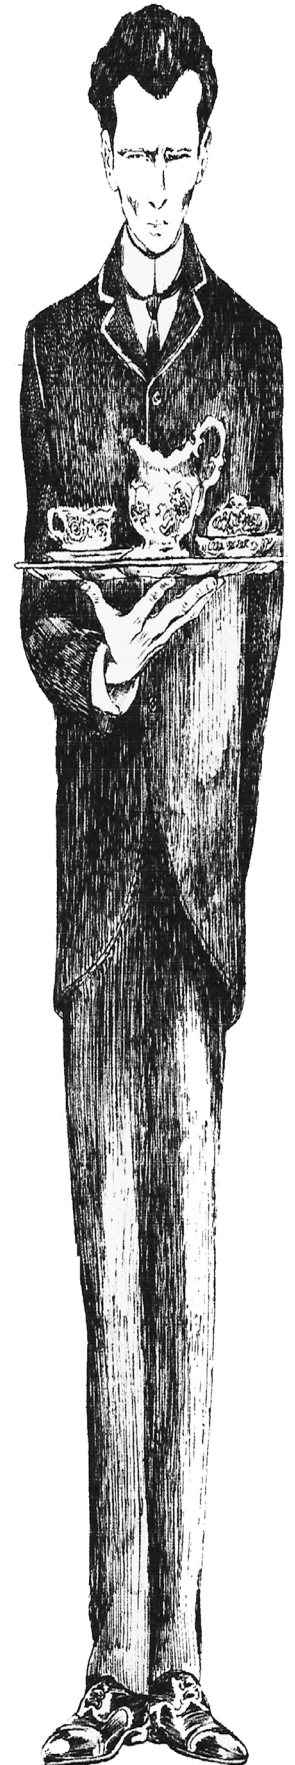

Finally, in September 2009 I signed the lease on GRAND Cafe and Beach in Granger Bay and opened the doors in December 2009, becoming Cape Town's notorious Sun Kissed Beach Boy.

In the beginning of my journey GRAND AFRICA was a small brand but was soon endorsed by Africa and the world as a LOVEMARK.

The fact that I have been so very fortunate to TRAVEL extensively has allowed me to keep the GRAND brand relevant and beating in rhythm with the world trends. I have visited many places, some not so GRAND and many beyond GRAND. As a result, I have been able to transport some of my experience home and piece it together to create GRAND AFRICA, a brand where people feel held and loved in the space.

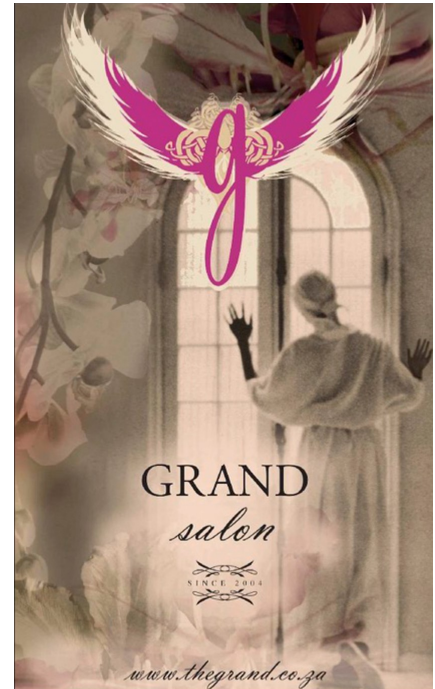

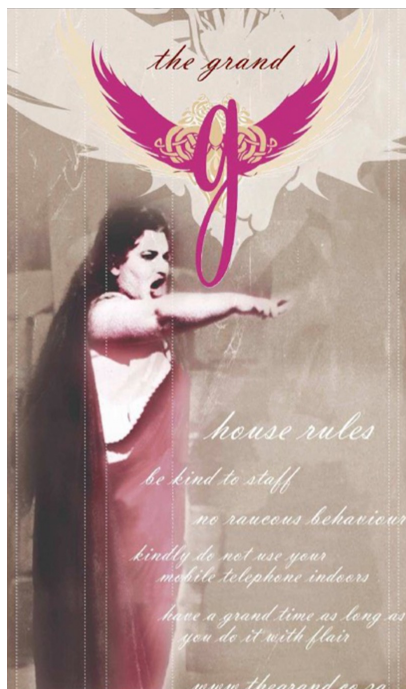

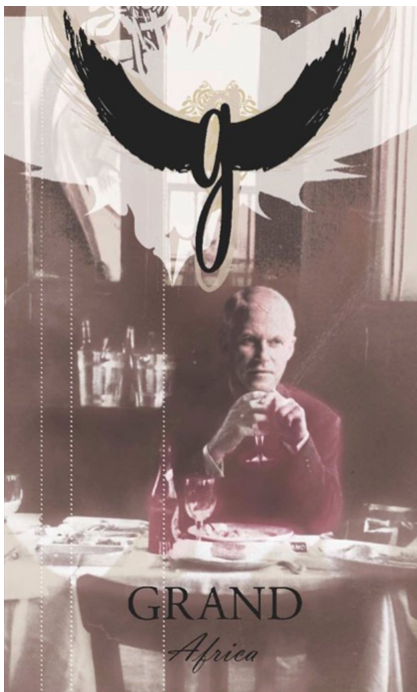

I believe that the secret to my brand is that I am part of the 100th monkey effect - staying relevant, popular, and innovative, in a cookie cutter hospitality industry.

We are all sewn together by a thread where love is the common denominator. GRAND AFRICA is the reason I survive the storm of life. It has been my reconnection to South Africa, my country of birth and has made me feel at home again. It has also been a vehicle for giving something back and therefore my passion for the GRAND AFRICA FOUNDATION.

OUR GRAND PHILOSOPHY :

*Where grand-chic meets retro-romance fit for the worldly traveller & diner.
Revelling in the triumph of authenticity, the Grand has grasped the notion
That no-one knows how much love can be held by humankind*

Grand Africa – “Sectio Aurea” Pattern

Integration of Fibonacci’s Sequence in Grand Africa’s emblematic Pattern

It’s quite incredible how much such a simple study in proportions and beauty can help us understand what surrounds us.

Mathematicians since Euclid have studied the properties of the Golden Ratio, including its appearance in the dimensions of a regular pentagon and in a golden rectangle, which may be cut into a square and a smaller rectangle with the same aspect ratio. The Golden Ratio has also been used to analyse the proportions of natural objects as well as man-made systems such as financial markets, in some cases based on dubious fits to data.

The Golden Ratio appears in some patterns in nature, including the spiral arrangement of leaves and other plant parts.

Some twentieth-century artists and architects, including Le Corbusier and Salvador Dalí, have proportioned their works to approximate the Golden Ratio, believing this to be aesthetically pleasing. These often appear in the form of the golden rectangle, in which the ratio of the longer side to the shorter is the golden ratio.

A simple exercise in form recognition will make us aware of what shapes can symbolise for our subconscious. The perception of Form and Proportions, the metaphysical intuition of Void and Line, Imperfection and Asymmetry, Freedom and Growth, can become all absorbing.

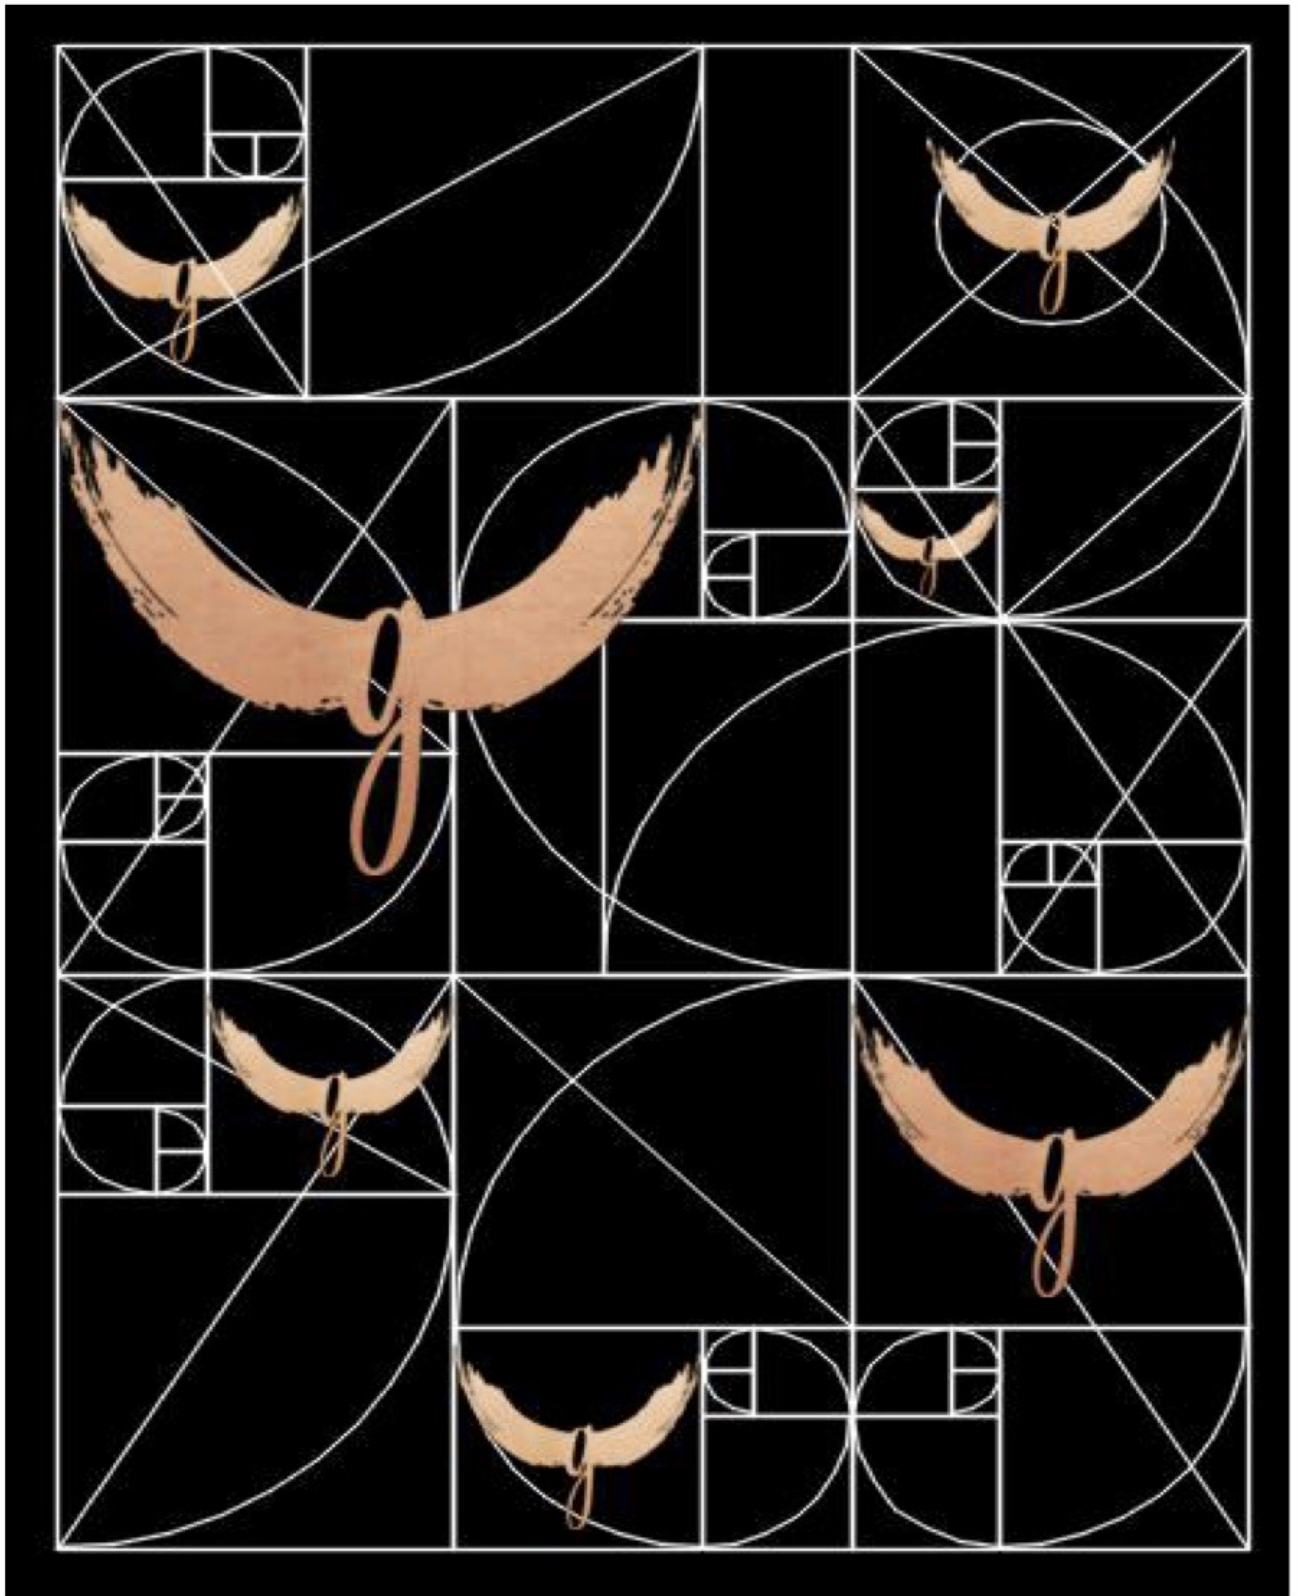

These are some of the notions that the Sectio Aurea should bring to our consciousness:

- | | |
|----------------|---|
| • FORM | - The recognisable found in the measurable |
| • PROPORTIONS | - Order within itself |
| • GROWTH | - Infinite expandability |
| • SYMMETRY | - Control of its existence |
| • ASYMMETRY | - Control of the opposite |
| • CONTINUANCE | - Permanence |
| • CENTRE | - Point of symmetry and of form |
| • FOCUS | - Control of relevance and existence |
| • IMPERFECTION | - Reference of what is not |
| • POINTS | - Components of the Whole and Definition |
| • INFINITY | - Implied expectations and the Unreachable |
| • OBVIOUS | - Satisfied Expectations and Reason |
| • HIDDEN | - Metaphysical perceptions |
| • FREEDOM | - Interpretation of visual possibilities |
| • CONTROL | - Approachability and ease of understanding |
| • VOID | - Negative spaces |
| • LINE | - Definitions of space and direction |

You’ll find them all in this simple picture. I think you could use these as inspiration for the future...

The inclusion of proportionate “Grand Wings”, scattered seemingly haphazardly, contextualises the use of the Pattern.

The Wings multiply always according to the Golden Ratio of 1.618.

HAYLEY – ADMIN MANAGER – GRAND CAFÉ & ROOMS

To me, Grand Africa represents a fresh and quirky approach to what can oftentimes be an ostentatious industry. I love that we are able to deliver a wonderfully eclectic experience in a 'nonclinical' environment. There is much reward in witnessing the reaction of first-time visitors as they walk through our doors and discover a place where pieces of furniture and other seemingly misplaced objects blend together beautifully to create an old-world ambiance without forgoing any modern day comforts. I am particularly proud to be associated (even to the smallest degree) with a brand that is committed to empowering less fortunate individuals through our Grand Foundation by supporting various charities, community projects and non-profit organisations.

ROXY DANCKWERTS - GRAND 'WILD IS LIFE'– GRAND AFRICA

For me, Grand Africa is a personal statement. She is defined by a rather unconventional sense of sophistication, happiness and joy, as well as laughter and all that is very beautiful. However, don't be fooled by her whimsical nature ... what lies beneath has an unfathomed depth of love, giving and creativity.

Music Master

Cape Town, 14th of July 2021

As GRAND Africa's Music Director I am responsible for the soundtrack to your experiences in our iconic spaces.

Just as it does in movies, music helps narrate a story. And stories we have many at GRAND Africa... nostalgic ones, glamorous ones, always sentimental, always feeling, always celebrating this very moment. Changing with it, indulging and embracing the next year, playing with it... Play has often been at the heart of it all. Whether in DJing in GRAND spaces or compiling playlists.

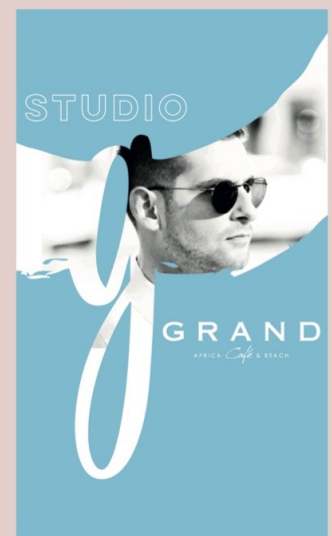

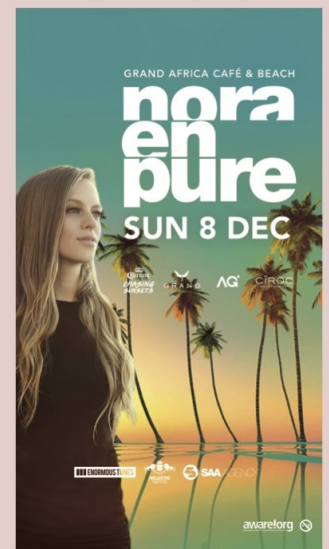

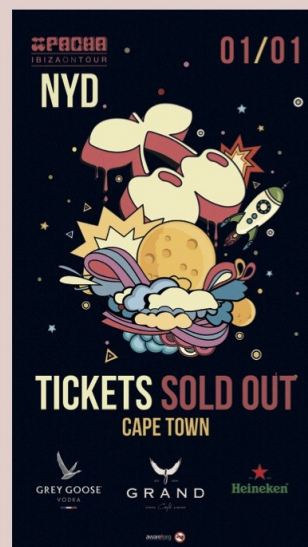

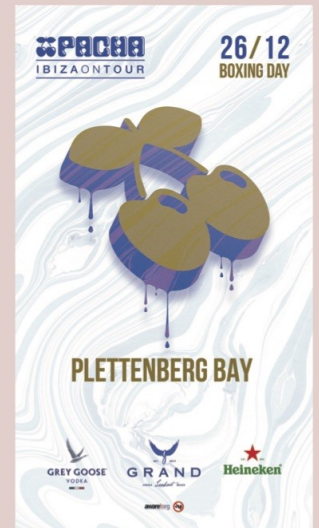

From putting together music for theatrical private events to hosting some of the most celebrated DJs in the world like Tim Exelbaert and Matthias Kesper to travel to Africa and play for us, staying the musical identity of this home has challenged me to re-learn "play", always with love and respect of an embracing GRAND team.

I have seen GRAND Africa change over the years and with it did the music evolve as a core element of our brand's identity. Yet some songs remain, they carry through a nostalgic thread, trigger memory of a bygone time. Always GRAND, always with flair...

GRAND Music

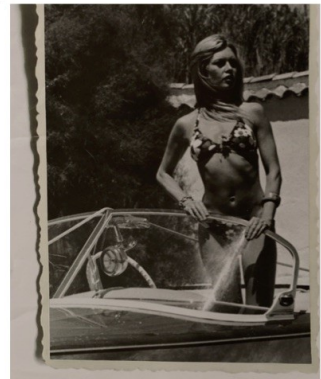

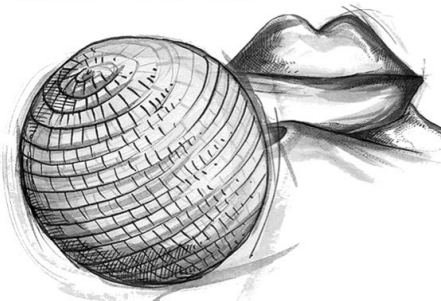

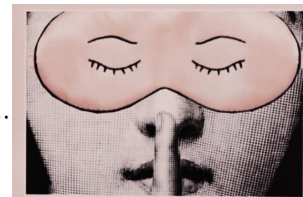

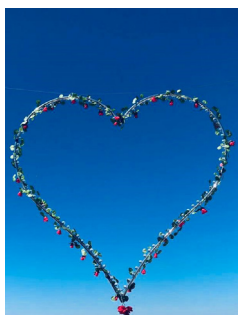

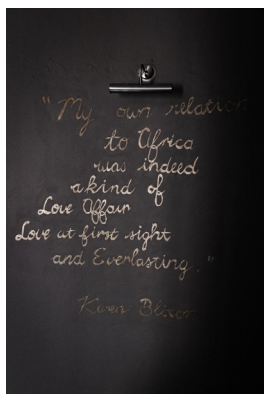

The Grand
 My gentle greetings to The Grand.
 My gesture to its greatness.
 Great at The Grand
 Everybody get's to feel great.
 A soulful gateway to the best there is to get
 I attempt not to getaway.
 Because The Grand presents the true way.
 As I trudge my way through The Grand.
 Suddenly taken away is my breath.
 Drifted away, my whole self.
 I lose myself,
 and surprisingly find myself,
 Looking for myself
 Within the candle- lit alleys of The Grand
 Though gasping for breath,

*I feel amplified
 Glorified
 And beautified
 Entrancing the grandeur
 I am lifted beyond my forefelt boundaries
 Having earlier felt outclassed
 I rejoice as I settle within its class
 Clearing myself to gain the transparency, of a typical wine glass.
 The glamour intoxicates me,
 like a full bodied Cabernet Sauvignon wine
 The décor mesmerizes me into near madness, but anyway this is all for happiness*

GRAND-CHIC MEETS RETRO-ROMANCE ...
FIT FOR THE WORLDLY TRAVELER .

Cape Town's Grand New Beach Boy

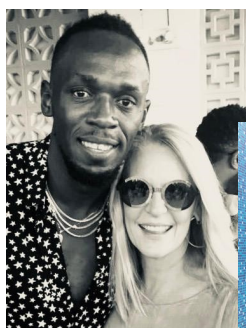

"The design inspiration was Cape Town meets St Tropez – a free spirited eclectic beach Café Culture “ says Grand CEO Sue Main .

Cape Town's favourite destination restaurant and venue, Grand Africa Café & Beach embraces a free-spirited beach café culture, nestled poignantly on the sea-front shoreline and flaunting her majestic views of the mighty Atlantic and Robben Island.

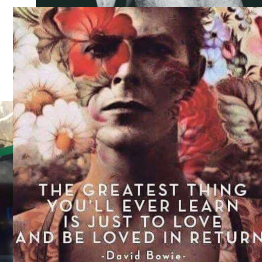

With iconic style and playful luxury, Grand captures the quintessential charm and colloquial effervescence of the bustling city vibe while offering a quaint and relaxed escape, 'a world away' in the heart of the Cape Town's social mile. Since opening our doors in December 2009, this much-loved Cape Town classic has fast become a true must-do destination restaurant and nightspot for beach-chic dining, lazy sundowners and slow-motion rendezvous.

Built within a restored boathouse still richly textured in mariners' lore, today Grand pays tribute to worldly travellers by offering a unique blend of fun and relaxation - positioned on a private beach just minutes from Cape Town's V&A Waterfront shopping and tourist precinct. Table Bay with the Green Point Stadium, Signal Hill and Table Mountain form a breath-taking backdrop to capturing perfect moments in Africa's retro-romance capital .

With a choice of five bars, ocean view decks, nine private function venue areas and on-beach dining, you're sure to find the perfect spot to capture that unforgettable magic, that is simply ... Grand.

Pay it forward

Creating positive healing spaces for South African wildlife

Living in Africa we are fortunate enough to be exposed to her glorious wildlife on an almost continual basis. But with this comes great responsibility, as resource hungry man is eating away at the habitat in which this wildlife is living and a lack of education often leads to unintentional harm being caused to them.

It is with this that Wild is Life, based just 20 minutes from Harare in Zimbabwe, was formed. According to its founders, Wild is Life is a fusion of humanity and wildlife and a haven of comfort and seclusion in the form of a healing wildlife sanctuary that not only cares for the welfare of its animals, but also for the spirit of the guests who pay these animals and their sanctuary a visit. It is through the caring of animals and the spirit of its caregivers and the people who visit it, that the sanctuary's cornerstone philosophy "One by One" was created - this encompasses the importance of respecting each animal in its care as individuals as sentient beings.

Working with its brand partner and business counterpart, Grand Africa, with its Grand Africa Foundation, Legacy Lifestyle was introduced to Wild is Life by Grand Africa proprietor Sue Mann who is a friend and supporter of the organisation. Together the companies are looking at joint methods and means to assist the sanctuary in achieving its goals and in living by its "One by One" philosophy.

A TAPESTRY OF CARE

Since its establishment in Zimbabwe 15 years ago, "Wild is Life" has grown exponentially. From the humble beginnings of having only a few rescued wild orphan animals, namely duiker and mongoose, in its back yard, to today where the sanctuary now caters for literally hundreds of injured, orphaned and rescued wildlife and endangered and specially protected species. Each of which have been discovered or brought to it for assistance.

Apart from assisting the animals at the sanctuary, the organisation also promotes the awareness of caring for and protecting wildlife and endangered species across the board. To support this outreach it also offers authentic close up experiences and personal encounters with the animals for guests visiting the sanctuary.

BUILT ON LOVE

Wild is Life consists of two branches; namely The Wild is Life Trust and The Wild is Life Grand Experience. The profits from the Wild is Life Grand Experience are used for the welfare, care and continued development of the Wild is Life Trust.

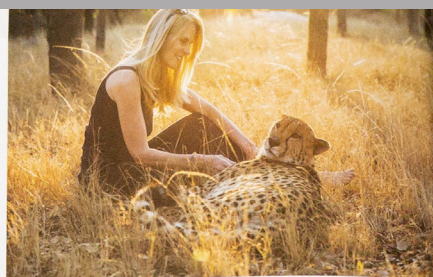

The Wild is Life Trust was founded in 2010 when Roxy Danckwerts, the proprietor of the Trust, felt that there was a need for Wild is Life, which itself was growing beyond just a small home of refuge for these animals into a fully-fledged sanctuary, to be assisted and monitored by an experienced team of business savvy individuals.

Able guided by a formidable team of trustees, The Trust is today responsible for the welfare, development of facilities and high standards of care offered to the resident animals. In addition The Wild is Life Trust works closely with the Zimbabwe Parks and Wildlife Management Authority, as well as other registered welfare organisations such as ZNSPCA and the Aware Trust.

A HOME FOR THE WEARY

Currently, the Wild is Life Trust is home to a number of lion, cheetah, ground pangolin, kudu, giraffe, wildebeest, impala, duiker, tortoises, monkeys and baboons. The population is dynamic and where possible, the Trust will release suitable animals back into larger habitats. No animals are bought or sold at Wild is Life Trust. All the animals that reside in its boundaries are rescues or have been subsequently born on the property.

Up until two years ago, the facility was not open to the public. However, due to considerable financial constraints and the need to "share" the sentence of these precious animals, the Trust decided to open up to the public in a controlled and responsible manner. While visitors, paying or non-paying, are entertained during their visits to the sanctuary, they are also educated on various aspects of wildlife conservation.

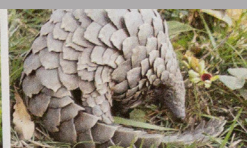

The Wild is Life Trust believes in the power of the "Ambassadorial animal" and remarkable progress has been made in educating a significant number of people in the vagaries of wildlife conservation.

A GRAND EXPERIENCE

On the other side of the spectrum, the Wild is Life Grand Experience is the hospitality and guest services component of the sanctuary. Set within the home of an established Zimbabwean family, Wild is Life Grand Experience is located five minutes from Harare International Airport and 30 minutes from Harare Central, in the South Eastern area of Harare.

Here, within the gorgeous surrounds, guests are encouraged to interact with the animals wherever possible and under supervision, presenting a holistic and genuine dynamic with the animals rarely seen in other similar centres.

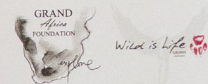

Apart from the animal interactions, special events are offered through the Wild is Life Grand Experience, including corporate functions and conferences, birthday celebrations, an Individual Earth Angel Experience in the "Spirit Nests" campaign picnics and the Wild is Life Grand Cafe Society. Funds raised from these functions are used for the welfare, care and continued development of the Wild is Life Trust, so guests or corporates can have a great experience and help the animals at the same time.

A CHAIN REACTION

It is through the joining of organisations and charities that funds are provided, support is given, problems are addressed and small acts of kindness are paid forward. Through enabling one charity to perform its moral duties a chain reaction is put in place with that charity now being able to help another charity. In the case of Legacy Lifestyle, the Grand Africa Foundation and the Grand Wild is Life, we believe this is one such chain reaction that works very well.

DREAMING ABOUT GRAND SPACES ...

2015 - TURKS & CAICOS - USA

2015

A new self-contained boutique hotel

The Telegraph

The Telegraph calls it
“The Next Big Thing”.

Demand for sustainable solutions in the luxury-travel sector will continue to rise, which of course provides a win-win situation for all. Even the most eco-conscious consumers will still travel a great deal but they are looking for ways to offset their guilt.

“As travellers’ interest in environmentally friendly holidays continues to grow, so too does the number of innovative and luxurious travel experiences on offer.”

The Sunday Times calls it
“A great new idea”.

“In recent years sustainability in the travel industry has progressed from a truly niche consideration to an industry-wide priority.

What is now clear to accommodation providers is that holidaymakers expect the companies they book with to be as responsible, ethical and sustainable as possible.

Over the coming years, expect travel brands to integrate sustainability into their offerings in exciting and inventive ways.”

CHAPTER V1

COUNTRY GRAND

WHERE GRAND-CHIC MEETS RETRO ROMANCE
FIT FOR THE WORLDLY TRAVELLER

Country Grand

Franschhoek isn't short on views but Country Grand really has bagged one of the best. High on the mountainside above the village, the newest sibling in the Grand Collection has taken over the restaurant at Dieux Donne Vineyards, adding its signature brand of casual glitz and an approachable, deluxe café menu. Ideal for lazy lunches with cocktails, or sundowners easing into dinner, Country Grand has an Instagram moment at every corner.

Setting the scene

The Country Grand entrance, up a gracious flight of steps flanked by cascades of water, is the first photo opportunity. And then once you reach the restaurant, the breathtaking views over the valley through floor to ceiling windows draw the eye outside. Tearing yourself away for a moment, the vaulted brick wine-cellar-style interior inherited from the previous restaurant has been glammed up with a rococo bar, red velvet couches, and a candelabra and single red rose on each table.

However, down the stairs and outdoors is where it's at... when the sun is shining. The generous brick patio gives a grandstand view over the valley, with big café umbrellas shading the array of seating options. Eight tables for two are set in the prime position at the edge of the patio with uninterrupted views – it's well worth booking ahead to reserve one of these. Wooden steps lead down to a sloping lawn and a deck festooned with fairy lights for nighttime dining under starry skies. A giant mirror ball, funky red-lips bench and cushioned couches next to the vines pay homage to its beachside counterpart and offer playful retro-chic backdrops for glam selfies.
